THE following Drawings have been carefully selected from the "Civil Engineers' and Architects' Journal," for the last four years, with the view of introducing to the notice of the Profession the best examples of

Churches, Chapels, & Mansions,

erected during that period, and to form a Book of Reference whereby they can feel confident, not only that the designs are well chosen, but at the same time fully satisfied that they have been designed and carried out by some of the first Architects of the day.
